My dear Theodore,

It was awfully nice hearing from you. It's obvious from your letter that P.R. never dies. My only comment regarding your information is the punch line of a joke you once told--- "W-O-W, that's P.R."

Seriously though, I'm very happy that you honored me with your request. Please forgive my late reply, but I wasn't sure whether or not I could attend Freshmen Week ceremonies. I'm very happy to announce that I will be in New Haven during that week and would be only too happy to act as emcee.

I wasn't able to attend last year's successful extravaganza and so I'm a little hazy on some of my duties. I've written to Charlie for information, and he will be able to clue me in on the procurement of women (for public display, that is) and our musical needs. The only band that I can think of that will entertain gratis is perhaps Eli's Chosen Sex, and I have no idea where to contact them. As for women (those lovely creatures), it would be just peachy-keen if we could obtain the services of the Rheingold Bevy again. Of course, in desperation, we could hold a demonstration of home mechanics with some esteemed Boardman Beauties.

As you can see, my active hand cannot participate (or is the word palpitate) until I learn a little more about the general motif. So I'll stand by for instructions from Charles and you.

Hope this letter finds you enjoying a good vacation---I'm certainly having a ball here. Andy Vladmir had better watch out because I'm fast becoming a TV mogul. Every afternoon I thrill the kiddies as Clancy the Courageous Cop and I also do a 15-minute bit as "your Friendly Farm Reporter". Of course, I've been doing everything in both radio and TV except sweeping the floors so it's great experience. Have to go now--station break coming up (never any girls going down however). One last thing---I have a Poopal Bull that says the B.O.B. must have lots of publicity this year!

J.D."

My dear Theodore,

It was with surprise hearing from you. This obvious from your letter that P.R. never dies. My only comment regarding your information is the punch line of a joke you once told-- "P.R. is like a P.R."

Partially though, I'm very happy that you ignored me with your request. Please forgive my late reply, but I wasn't sure whether or not I could afford to answer your commentaries. I'm very happy to announce that I will be in New Haven during that week and would be only too happy to act as an emcee.

I wasn't able to attend last year's successful conference and so I'm a little busy on some of my duties. I've written to Charlie for information, and he will be able to clue me in on the procurement of women (for public display, that is) and our mutual needs. The only band that I can think of that will entertain this is perhaps Ella's Women Sex, and I have no idea where to contact them. As for women (those lovely creatures), it would be just peachy-keen if we could obtain the services of the Rhetoric Levy again. Of course, in desperation, we could hold a demonstration of home mechanics with some esteemed local men brought.

As you can see, my active hand cannot participate (or is the word right?) until I learn a little more about the general matter. So I'll stand by for instructions from Charles and you.

More this letter finds you enjoying a good vacation-- certainly having a ball here. Andy, Vicky and Betty were out because I'm last becoming a TV mogul. Every afternoon I thrill the kiddies as Clancy the Careless Cop and I also do a 15-minute bit as "your friendly farm reporter". Of course, I've been doing everything in both radio and TV except sweeping the floors so it's a great experience. I've to go now-- station break coming up (never any sign going down however). One last thing-- I have a local ball that save the P.R. must have lots of publicity this year!

Your "old P.R."
J.W.
